Management Comments

"Our strong momentum continued in the second quarter as sales grew 6.2%, our sixth consecutive quarterly year-over-year increase," said Carl Christenson, Altra's Chairman and CEO. "We are capitalizing on the ongoing strength of the industrial economy, leveraging robust demand across most of our end markets, and we remain on-track in the execution of our growth strategy. Through our ongoing focus on bottom-line improvement, we achieved 23.4% and 25.3% increases in GAAP and non-GAAP net income, respectively, in the second quarter.*"

"Integration planning is on target for the combined Fortive Automation & Specialty business and Altra businesses to hit the ground running on day one," continued Christenson. "Our plan remains to close on the acquisition by the end of the year and our entire team is working very hard to close as early as possible. We look forward to creating a premium global industrial company that expands our portfolio across the technology spectrum and increases our exposure to end markets with attractive secular trends."

"We have a strong new business pipeline with excellent opportunities for organic growth, and increasing confidence in the staying power of the current industrial economy," continued Christenson. "As a result of this optimism and our first-half performance, we are raising our guidance for full year 2018."

Business Outlook

Altra is increasing its guidance for full year 2018. The Company currently expects full-year 2018 sales in the range of $920 to $935 million, up from its previous guidance in the range of $910 to $930 million. The Company expects its tax rate for the full year to be approximately 23% to 25% before discrete items, capital expenditures in the range of $28 to $30 million, and depreciation and amortization in the range of $36 to $38 million.*

Non-GAAP Net Income	$71.3 - $74.2	$2.45 - $2.55

⁽²⁾ Due to the uncertainty as to when future acquisition-related expenditures will be incurred, Altra has only included in its reconciliation those costs incurred year-to-date. Altra expects to incur between $30-$50 million in acquisition-related expenditures in conjunction with the planned Fortive A&S business acquisition.

⁽³⁾ Tax impact is calculated by multiplying the estimated effective tax rate for the period of 23% - 25% before discrete items by the above items with the exception of acquisition-related expenses and the supplier warranty settlement. Due to the uncertainty of deductibility and the non-recurring nature of the acquisition-related expenses, no tax benefit is assumed and the negative rate impact has been adjusted from the non-GAAP net income calculation. The supplier warranty settlement income is not taxable in the local jurisdiction, therefore no tax impact has been assumed.

* Discussion of Non-GAAP Financial Measures

As used in this release and the accompanying slides posted on the Company's website, non-GAAP diluted earnings per share, non-GAAP income from operations and non-GAAP net income are each calculated using either net income or income from operations that excludes acquisition related costs, restructuring costs, and other income or charges that management does not consider to be directly related to the Company's core operating performance. Non-GAAP gross profit is calculated using gross profit that excludes income or charges that management does not consider to be directly related to the Company's core operating performance. Non-GAAP diluted earnings per share is calculated by dividing non-GAAP net income by GAAP weighted average shares outstanding (diluted). Non-GAAP free cash flow is calculated by deducting purchases of property, plant and equipment from net cash flows from operating activities. Non-GAAP operating working capital is calculated by deducting accounts payable from net trade receivables plus inventories.

Altra believes that the presentation of non-GAAP net income, non-GAAP income from operations, non-GAAP gross profit, non-GAAP diluted earnings per share, non-GAAP free cash flow and non-GAAP operating working capital provides important supplemental information to management and investors regarding financial and business trends relating to the Company's financial condition and results of operations.
